

File a Review Request Petition

Description of Service:

This service enables customers to file a Review Request Petition and its pleading in First Instance Tribunals or appeal the decisions to Appellate Tribunals in Rental Disputes Center, after thirty (30) days from the date following the Judgment in presentia or its service in the event of Judgment in absentia.

Exclusive cases of review request with reference to Code of Civil Procedures, Article 169:

1. If the party is involved in a fraud which effects the judgment;
2. If the judgment is based on papers which, after being issued, are admitted to be forged, or if it is adjudged or established on the testimony of a witness, which is found by the court to be a perjury after such a judgment has been rendered;
3. If, after the award of the judgment, the applicant obtains conclusive papers the submission of which has been obstructed by his adversary;
4. If the judgments include anything not claimed by the parties to the legal action or more than they claimed;
5. If the decree is contradictory;
6. If the party who has not been admitted or intervened in the action considers the judgment awarded in the lawsuit a verdict against him, provided that fraud, collusion or serious negligence on the part of the person who represented him is proved;
7. If the judgment has been issued against a natural person or legal entity who has not been properly represented in the lawsuit.
